

Strategies for supporting pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities when Reading in lessons.

Individual Need	Here's how we help everyone learn
Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder	<ul> <li>✓ Using a non-confrontational approach and listening to the individual child will help reduce their heightened arousal.</li> <li>✓ The use of audio books alongside the text support children with their concentration.</li> <li>✓ Ensure the child is positioned carefully so that teacher has easy access for support.</li> </ul>
Anxiety	<ul> <li>Where possible, the child is taught by a well know adult who they have already established a trusted relationship with.</li> <li>Allow the child to be involved when choosing groups of partners within the taught reading session.</li> <li>Use a consistent approach for answering questions so children become familiar with this.</li> <li>Ensure children sit in the same seat every day and are pre-warned if the seating plan needs to change for any reason.</li> <li>Avoid direct questioning; instead, questioning is used on a 1:1 basis where the adult has established trust with the child.</li> <li>Specific children with anxieties around toileting, e.g. the hand dryer have the opportunity to use atoilet they are familiar with.</li> <li>Where possible, children are prepared when there is a change in staff member.</li> </ul>
Autism Spectrum Disorder	<ul> <li>✓ Children are encouraged to sit where they feel the most comfortable in the classroom. Where possible, this seating plan is not altered unless the child is happy and involved in the process.</li> <li>✓ Sensory spaces and resources are readily available for all children.</li> <li>✓ Extra processing time is given and on the spot questioning, is avoided during whole class teaching.</li> <li>✓ Children are allowed to read on their own if it is too challenging them to read with a partner.</li> <li>✓ Planned and unplanned sensory breaks are permitted throughout the lesson.</li> <li>✓ There is always an available adult for a 'change of face' if needed.</li> </ul>

	✓ Children have access to their own whiteboard in the session, rather than copying from the class board.
Dyscalculia	✓ Questions are differentiated and the child themselves chooses the level they feel comfortable with.
	✓ There is no pressure put on individual children to read aloud in front of the class. Children are invited to read aloud.
	✓ Personalised coloured overlays can be used.

✓ Support is given when managing peer relationships effectively, the child is involved in the process of choosing a partner reader.
✓ Instructions are simple and mistakes are considered as learning opportunities.
✓ Language is purposefully kept simple and consistent throughout the sessions.
✓ Closed questions are used when exploring comprehension, which only require a yes or no answer.
✓ Clear language is used to model and expand what has been said.
<ul> <li>Plenty of opportunity is given to communicate ideas in a small group.</li> </ul>
✓ Any attempt to communicate is responded to positively.
✓ Emotional reactions are filtered and adults listen and respond with support and understanding.
✓ Children are never asked to stop their tics.
✓ Where vocal tics are prominent children are not asked to read aloud as we are understanding that they may be reluctant to do this.
✓ There is a clear structure to the lesson.
✓ Although children are encouraged to listen, teachers are aware that at times tics inhibit auditory processing. It is never assumed that they are intentionally not listening.
✓ Positive self- talk is modelled when reading.
✓ Mistakes are seen as a positive part of learning.
✓ A predictable environment with clear expectations for behaviour is provided.
✓ Adults will calm and support if a child becomes overwhelmed.
✓ Breakout spaces are available to all children.
✓ Careful consideration is given to seating, with individual considerations made discreetly and not publicly.
✓ Large font materials are provided in addition to teacher talk.
